Philadelphia: Candlelight Records confirms November 29 as the American release date for the new studio album from Sweden's Dark Funeral. Titled Attera Totus Sanctus, it is the fourth studio album from the widely respected black metal band.

Recorded at Dug Out Studios and produced by the renowned Daniel Bergstrand and Örjan Örnkloo, Attera Totus Sanctus is surely Dark Funeral's most eagerly anticipated recording in their now decade-long career. Raw, fierce, and evil it will rightly reclaim the unholy band's title at the top of black metal's premiere elite. Early reviews already have journalists citing, "Dark Funeral give the word "uncompromise" a whole new meaning." The record explodes "with hate, anger, apocalypse and speed."

Sweden's Dark Funeral are without doubt one of the most notorious and highly regarded of the black metal genre. They epitomize the dark essence that is and always will be at the true heart of the European scene. Dating to 1993, the band quickly established themselves as a band to watch. Their performances have become legend, witnessed by fans around the globe. Blood, corpse paint and ancient weaponry as a dominating backdrop to the band's fast and intricate music, fans walk away with a vivid spectacle that few of their peers can match.

Confirmed track listing for Attera Totus Sanctus is: King Antichrist, 666 Voices Inside, Attera Totus Sanctus, Godhate, Atrum Regina, Angel Flesh Impaled, Feed On The Mortals & Final Ritual.

Dark Funeral currently features vocalist/bassist Emperor Magnus Caligula, guitarist Lord Ahriman, guitarist Chaq Mol, and drummer Matte Modin. Attera Totus Sanctus features guest performance by bassist Gustaf Hielm (ex-Meshuggah).
